Directors Notes:

When I was choosing the musical for this year, I knew that I wanted to do a show from the late Stephen Sondheim, after his passing last November, and I knew Into the Woods would be that musical. This season was all about finding yourself and what better show than Into the Woods to showcase that theme. While act 1 of the show is all about the fairy tale characters that we know and love finding their happy ever after, act 2 is all about the consequences of their actions and them having to come to the realization of what is right and wrong. I really wanted to showcase this realization of the characters finding who they really are, by having the Narrator be a 'puppet master'. The Narrator is the one telling the story and pushing them along to do what they want in Act 1, but when Act 2 comes along and the fairy tale as we know it is over, the characters are now forced to face who they truly are and find that it was actually them who made the choices all along.

Special Thanks

Five Flags Theater, for allowing us to perform in your beautiful venue. Encore Club, for the endless support you bring to the Wahlert Arts. White Cap—formerly Stetson Building Products, LLC, for the tubing that provided the enormous tree. RH Prints, for our beautiful shirts. Sara Bahl, for your countless hours in creating that magnificent Milky White puppet. To all the parents and students that helped move the set, build the set etc...words can not express how thankful I am for taking time out of your day to come and help build the world that comes to life on stage.

Levi Stevenson, for the magical posters, help with the programs and for just being a great support system for an exhausted director. Terry Reichel, without you there would not be a set on the stage, you put in so many hours to help create a world around the actors and I truly can not thank you enough for your time and energy you put into the theater program here at Wahlert.
